EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

The 2024 Texas Relocation Report provides insights into the relocation patterns to and from Texas during 2022. The Texas population continued to grow during this time period. Overall, about 668,000 people moved to Texas from other states, with a net population gain of nearly 175,000 residents. More than 102,000 California residents relocated to the Lone Star State. California-to-Texas was the most popular state-to-state move in the U.S. Other states with significant numbers of movers coming to Texas were Florida (41,000+), New York (30,000+). California also was the top destination for Texans moving to another state, with more than 42,000 residents making that move. Florida was the second-most-popular destination for relocating Texans, with approximately 38,000 movers, followed by Oklahoma with more than 26,000 Texans moving to the Sooner State.
